About ECT 2022

18th European Conference on Thermoelectrics

In 2020 we were about to welcome you in Barcelona, taking the torch of ECT from the eastern Mediterranean Sea shores of Limassol (Cyprus) to its western shores in Spain.

Then, the pandemic brought worldwide disruption.

Two years later, here we are to try again, so... under the aegis of the European Thermoelectric Society we are ready to welcome people from academia and industry, scientists and engineers, young and senior contributors from across Europe and abroad to our yearly gathering. We vow for a fruitful event where we all can share the latest advancements in the field of thermoelectricity. The scope of the conference is wide as usual: contributions to macro/micro/nano approaches on mature and novel materials - hard and soft -, models and modules are appreciated and will hopefully shape an appealing program with your help.

Whether you theorize, synthesize, measure or assemble, you are all kindly invited to attend the 18th European Conference on Thermoelectrics to exchange knowledge in this multidisciplinary topic. Be ready to enjoy Barcelona as well, a modern dynamic city with much history and wonderful architecture to celebrate, a friendly and warm (both literally and figuratively) metropolis that awaits you.

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Barcelona in September 2022!
